BOGEN, Johann Jakob

Germany 1767 – p.1800

Johann Jakob Bogen was an architectural draughtsman, painter and designer, active in Darmstadt to the end of the eighteenth century. Some of his vedute were engraved by Christian August Günther. He may be the Bogen who made a portrait of the painter Weber. The signature on the pendants sold in Radolfzell in 2007 is difficult to read, but could plausibly be that of the same artist (although it is difficult to compare a pastel portrait with a watercolour landscape)..
