

Neil Jeffares, Dictionary of pastellists before 1800

Online edition

BORCKHARDT, Charles

fl. London 1784–1825

Exhibited pastels in 1784 and 1785 from Little Castle Street. Later exhibits of miniatures, drawings and works in unspecified media (from other addresses near Oxford Street and then from Hampstead, until 1810) included portraits of members of the Boydell family (he is credited with making numerous drawings for the engraver), and of the artist's sister, Mrs Wentworth. "Master Dashwood", the boy exhibited in 1784, might also be a relative, as a Mary Borckhardt (1754–1830) married a Joseph Dashwood at St Margaret's, Westminster in 1782.

Bibliography

Bénézit; Foskett 1987; Saur; Sée 1911; Waterhouse 1981

Pastels

Boy reading [Master DASHWOOD], Royal Academy 1784, no. 193

Gentleman, crayons, Royal Academy 1784, no. 195

Lady, crayons, Royal Academy 1784, no. 233

Child, crayons, Royal Academy 1785, no. 434