CARLEVARIJS, Marianna

Venice 25.XI.1703–p.1750

Daughter of the vedute painter Luca Carlevarijs; supported by the Zenobio family of Venice. She is recorded by contemporary sources as a pupil of Carriera (“Mariana è brava Pittrice di ritrati, e fu allieva di Rosalba Carriera” – Temanza, cited Pedrocco 2003); a copy in miniature after Carriera’s ragazza tirolese was in the Strawberry Hill sale (now in the collection of the Earl of Derby).

There remain confusions in the attribution of pastels by Carlevarijs and Lazzari, among others. The technique is very similar to Rosalba’s, but Carlevarijs’s round eyes are distinctive. One pastel reattributed to her in 2018 is mounted on a thin strainer with bevelled edges of a kind Rosalba preferred; it was lined with paper taken from a book published in Venice in 1741.

Records for the Venetian parish of S. Raffaele Arcangelo, 23.IX.1748, suggest that Carlevarijs was married to an Antonio Tamagno, solleccitador (lawyer).
