

Neil Jeffares, Dictionary of pastellists before 1800

Online edition

DODD, D. P.

fl. London 1768–84

No doubt the son of Daniel Dodd (q.v.). He exhibited one crayon as well as sketches, miniatures, oils and landscapes at the Free Society between 1768 and 1778, as Master Dodd, then D. P. Dodd, 3 Old Bailey, and Mr Dodd, Jr. His picture of the death of Captain Cook, 1784 (“Drawn by D. P. Dodd and others who were on the spot”), is of some interest.

Bibliography

Waterhouse 1981

Pastels

A conversation, crayons, Free Society 1769, no.

79