

Neil Jeffares, Dictionary of pastellists before 1800

Online edition

DUVIVIER & Son

f. Philadelphia 1796–97

It is not known if Duvivier & Son were associated with Mlle Aimée Duvivier (q.v.) or the Savonnerie factory (Duvivier père claimed to be a member of the Académie royale of Paris), but they worked as painters on silk as well as pastellists. They advertised in Claypoole's American daily advertiser (31.X.1797, p. 3) for pupils for the reopening of their Academy of drawing and painting at 12 Strawberry Street, Philadelphia.

Bibliography

Bolton 1923; Lemoine-Bouchard 2008

Pastels

Ebenezer HAZARD; & pendant: wife, pstl, 1796
(Rev. F. E. Vermilye, New York, 1892). Lit.:
Bowen 1892, repr. pp. 156, 51; Bolton 1923,
n.r.