

Neil Jeffares, Dictionary of pastellists before 1800

Online edition – 2009

NOIRETERRE, Marie-Thérèse de

Paris 1760 – c.1819

One of Mme Labille-Guiard's female pupils, who may have worked in pastel although only miniatures are known or recorded. She exhibited miniatures in the Salon de la Correspondance in 1786 and 1787. According to Pahin de la Blancherie, her autoportrait at the 1787 exhibition was apparently previously shown in London, as her reception piece at the Society of Artists in 1785 (although her name does not seem to appear in Graves 1907). She lived at 25, rue Mazarine, Paris.

Bibliography

Bénézit; Doria 1934; L. Finet, "Une miniaturiste oubliée, Marie-Thérèse de Noireterre", Revue de l'art ancien et moderne, LXI, 1932, pp. 171–80; Foskett 1987; Greer 2001; Hofstetter 2008; Lemoine-Bouchard 2008; Passez 1973; Sanchez 2004; Schidlof 1964–65