

Neil Jeffares, Dictionary of pastellists before 1800

Online edition

RAWLINSON, Richard

London 1690–1755

Antiquary, topographer, bishop, benefactor of the University of Oxford, collector and amateur pastelist. The three portraits mentioned by Nichols were bequeathed to the Society of Antiquaries but later revoked. His brother Thomas was also an avid book collector. Their father was Lord Mayor of London.

Bibliography

New and general biographical dictionary, London, 1788, XII; Oxford DNB

Pastels

SELF-PORTRAIT, crayons

Thomas RAWLINSON (1681–1725), book collector

Nicholas SALMON, LL.D.