TISCHBEIN, Johann Friedrich August

Maastricht 9.III.1750 – Heidelberg 21.VI.1812
Nephew of Johann Heinrich Tischbein; son of Johann Valentin Tischbein (qq.v.) who was in Maastricht to paint the stadholder's family when August was born. He is said to have trained in Kassel, but in .VIII.1774 he appears (as Jean Frédérique Tischbein, from Escassel (Hesse-Cassel?), âgé de 24 ans) in the register of pupils at the école de l'Académie royale in Paris, under the protection of Lépicié, living with commandeur de Wildheim, minister from Escassel, rue du Cherchemidi. He travelled to Rome 1777–79, where he was in contact with Mengs, Naples in 1779, Paris in 1780, and then to Arolsen, where he served in the court of Fürst zu Waldeck u. Pyrmont. He exhibited at the Paris Salon de la Correspondance in 1783 as premier peintre du Prince évêque de Waldeck à Arolzen. He was in The Hague from 1786, commissioned to portray the stadholder's family following the political stability in The Netherlands facilitated by an alliance with Prussia. These he made using pastel, but later repeated in oil (many copies were also made).

Tischbein returned to Germany, making a further trip to Amsterdam in 1791, departing in 1794 amid fears of a French invasion. He then moved to Italy, where he associated with David and Mengs in Rome. Later he was in Vienna, Dessau, arriving in Berlin in 1796. Here Chodowiecki commented to Graff: "H. Tischbein der nun hier die Bilder der Prinzessinnen mahlt die Sie mahlen solten, auch die ganze Ferdinandsche familie nebst dem Fürsten Radzewil. Erstere machen viel mühe, weil sie ihm schlecht u unordentlich sitzen. Er mahlt sie zweymahl wil die Ersten Bilder nicht viel ähnlichheit hatten." None of these Berlin pastels has survived. From 1800 he was appointed director of the academy in Leipzig (so that he is sometimes referred to as the "Leipziger Tischbein").

Tischbein was primarily a portraitist in oil. His rare pastels (mostly associated with his Dutch portraits of the ruling family) are rather French in flavour, but occasionally quite perfunctory in handling and with errors of drawing – perhaps more so his female than his male subjects. Chodowiecki noted of Tischbein,

Il a un beau coloris limpide, et à ses visages de femmes, il ne donne pas de fard, presque trop peu de rouge, il dessine souvent les yeux l'un plus haut que l'autre, et tous ses portraits ont la poitrine trop petite, de sorte que ses sujets ont l'air d'enfants montrées en graine.

The broad, rapid technique, airy and elegant, succeeded in capturing more of his subject's aura than their physiognomy.
