

Neil Jeffares, Dictionary of pastellists before 1800

Online edition

ZINCKE, Christian Friedrich

Dresden 1685 – Lambeth 1767

Miniaturist and enamelist. He was the son of a goldsmith, and initially pursued this path, turning later to painting. From 1706 he was based in London, where he worked with the enamelist Charles Boit. Among his pupils was Jeremiah Meyer (q.v.). Hoare made a drawing of Zincke at work in 1752 (British Museum).

Bibliography

Edinburgh 2008; Foskett 1987; Hofstetter 2008; Pappe & al. 2008

Pastels

Still life with a basket of grapes and peaches, pstl, 61.2x45.8 (Royal Collection RCIN 406949). Attr.

Still life with a basket of plums and other fruit, pstl, 60.1x44.5 (Royal Collection RCIN 406950). Attr.