JEFFERYES

Sir James Jefferyes [Jeffries, Jefferys, etc.] (1635–p.1713), captain in the guards of Jan III Sobieski, brigadier-general in the English service under Queen Anne, Governor of Duncannon Fort, then of Cork 1698, cr. Kt Cracow 1676, prisoner at Poltava ∞ 1° Mlle Vandenenden, of Sweden (1677–1739), minister plenipotentiary of Great Britain to court of Charles XIII of Sweden; minister to the Hanseatic towns; Governor of Cork 1722; captain in the service of George I ∞ 1° Mlle Colmarr of Danzig; 2° Anne Broderick (–1763), dau. of St John Broderick, son of Lord Midleton q.v.

James St John Jefferyes (1734–1796), major of the 22nd Foot, Governor of Cork, agricultural reformer ∞ Arabella Fitzgibbon (1734–1796), sister of John, 1st Earl of Clare (1748–1802), lord chancellor (q.v.)

Marianne Jefferys ∞ 1° [1784–96 diss.] George Frederick Nugent, 7th Earl of Westmeath (1760–1814) q.v.; 2° Augustus Cavendish Bradshaw

Thomas Jefferys or Jefferys of Birmingham

Josiah Jefferys, brass founder

Nathaniel Jefferys, goldsmith

John Jefferys (1742–1820), goldsmith, Cockspur Street [Russel]

Matthew Jefferys (1740–1814) of Kidderminster [Russel]

Thomas Jefferys (1742–1820), goldsmith, Cockspur Street [Russel]

Thomas Jefferys (1719–1771), geographer, of Charing Cross, succeeded as map-maker to the King by William Faden ∞ 1751 Elizabeth Raikes (1729–), dau. or Robert Raikes (1690–1757), printer